Kind of you to say. It's not easy. You are doing great too. Follow the science!

There's one thing I think we should do more on when the moment is right: that this is a national effort. Everyone can do their bit. It starts with hand washing but there will be more: helping old folks if they have to stay home. We should have the asks of the nation ready if this steps up.

It's a great unifying clarion call for you to lead when the time is right
