

[22/10/2020, 20:44:36] Nicola Sturgeon: Isn't there legal action in England too?

[22/10/2020, 20:48:30] Liz Lloyd: <https://www.google.co.uk/amp/s/www.cityam.com/coronavirus-hospitality-industry-to-take-legal-action-over-local-lockdowns/amp/> and there's a challenge on substantial meal though I can't find reference to it

[23/10/2020, 16:44:18] Nicola Sturgeon: Ok

[23/10/2020, 23:15:50] Liz Lloyd: Times poll tomorrow - you're more popular than BorisIn England (that's all I know)

[24/10/2020, 09:11:24] Nicola Sturgeon:

[24/10/2020, 10:08:20] Nicola Sturgeon: We are never doing this. Not just the books - the whole thing is barmy. Far better to ask supermarkets to donate cash from non essential sales to help smaller retailers surely?? [redacted] Irrelevant & Sensitive

[26/10/2020, 15:30:09] Nicola Sturgeon: Well that took an even shorter period than I imagined [redacted] Irrelevant & Sensitive

[26/10/2020, 15:30:45] Liz Lloyd: There's a press release from borders Tory leader just come in as well

[26/10/2020, 15:30:58] Liz Lloyd: Intend to be relaxed - no decisions taken, Parliament first etc

[26/10/2020, 15:31:22] Nicola Sturgeon: After this round, maybe we just won't bother consulting them

[26/10/2020, 18:37:21] Liz Lloyd: We aren't changing the numbers are we - because everyone is already using them

[26/10/2020, 18:39:46] Nicola Sturgeon: You mean 0-4? No, that seemed to die down as an issue so I think we should leave as is

[26/10/2020, 18:41:58] Liz Lloyd: Good just checking - and 15 at a wedding is for some religion...I don't know which one. So I've said to go with that for level 4

[26/10/2020, 18:49:41] Nicola Sturgeon: Ok

[26/10/2020, 20:54:11] Liz Lloyd: As if you've not got enough to remember - can you bring that folder tomorrow.

[26/10/2020, 20:55:32] Nicola Sturgeon: Yes

[27/10/2020, 07:10:00] Nicola Sturgeon: I'm having a bit of a crisis of decision making in hospitality, not helped by fact I haven't slept .The public health argument says stick with 6pm/no alcohol for level 3. But I suspect industry will go mad - and I worry we could derail debate (tho I suspect that won't happen - and we could commit to listening and changing if we felt necessary)

[27/10/2020, 07:11:22] Liz Lloyd: My instinct is 6pm. That's the same as central belt now but some more places open. They have offered further mitigation - so we work with them on delivering those extra mitigation's and review at that point

[27/10/2020, 07:12:03] Liz Lloyd: The only alternative would be 8pm but no alcohol. Restaurants would like you for that

[27/10/2020, 07:15:29] Nicola Sturgeon: It's the same as non central belt - places can open but only for food/non alcohol.

8pm would be better I guess but not sure we can make much of a public health argument for 8pm/alcohol at level 2 and 8pm/no alcohol at 3??

[27/10/2020, 07:17:45] Liz Lloyd: That's why I would stick with 6pm. But if you want to compromise it would be about giving people regulated places to be in the winter, rather than unregulated homes - but no alcohol because it changes behaviour. The difference from now would basically be it's colder and it's darker so people will be less likely to be outside

[27/10/2020, 07:20:23] Nicola Sturgeon: Ok we should prob stick with 6 - it's all so random. But I think we need to be prepared for a bit of a backlash.

I've also queried whether we really need the last entry times and, if we do, if we should give on 9.30/10.30.

As it stands, there's nothing we can point to to say we've listened to industry.

[27/10/2020, 07:21:00] Liz Lloyd: Level 2 8pm is listening to them

[27/10/2020, 07:22:37] Liz Lloyd: And the whole allowing restaurants and pubs to stay open

[27/10/2020, 07:23:05] Nicola Sturgeon: I suppose

[27/10/2020, 07:28:15] Liz Lloyd: theres quite a lot really. I mean they'll still be grumpy. But there is

[27/10/2020, 07:28:46] Liz Lloyd: What time are you arriving I'm about to go into Starbucks. Would coffee be cold before you got here?

[27/10/2020, 07:28:57] Nicola Sturgeon: Ok. I'm just feeling a bit unsure if everything this morning.

[27/10/2020, 07:29:08] Nicola Sturgeon: I haven't left Glasgow yet!!

[27/10/2020, 07:29:38] Liz Lloyd: Slacker ☐

[27/10/2020, 07:30:21] Nicola Sturgeon: I've got a feeling I'm not going to have my most productive day!

[27/10/2020, 10:44:46] Nicola Sturgeon: How we getting on with tables. We should probs get to spice ASAP

[27/10/2020, 16:46:58] Nicola Sturgeon: Can you check in for me on where we are with a supporting narrative for the levels allocation on Thursday??

[27/10/2020, 16:50:20] Liz Lloyd: I know it's on the list of things to be done for Thursday. Are you just looking to know it exists or for more info.

[27/10/2020, 16:55:35] Nicola Sturgeon: Just to know it's in hand and that I'll see a developed draft in good time tomorrow

[27/10/2020, 17:12:52] Liz Lloyd: It's happening. Narrative and a statement of reasons including data for each area.

[27/10/2020, 17:37:04] Nicola Sturgeon: I can't take much more of this. Has a leader ever had a nervous breakdown live in Parliament before?

[27/10/2020, 17:37:28] Liz Lloyd: You can come out??

[27/10/2020, 17:56:36] Nicola Sturgeon: Ok

[27/10/2020, 18:13:56] Nicola Sturgeon: The interoperability app release could do with making it a bit clearer that it's SG that has taken the step to make this possible

[27/10/2020, 18:34:21] Liz Lloyd: £3.5m has been paid out. That's not a huge amount of £40m though so maybe wouldn't shout about it

[27/10/2020, 18:35:46] Nicola Sturgeon: At least we can say money is flowing now

[28/10/2020, 21:16:08] Nicola Sturgeon: I don't need it just now...but just checking NR will have the speech with me later so I can work on it on way in?

[28/10/2020, 21:16:51] Liz Lloyd: Yeah it's back with me and I'm just making a few tweaks.

[28/10/2020, 21:19:58] Nicola Sturgeon: ☐
