Basically it's the old stuff about why oh why didn't we do a Korea and why have the Greeks only lost 151 etc

But it needs thought alas

Why dont we do population wide Vitamin D supplements? Army already gives to healthy soldiers -- seems lots of evidence on positive effects relevant to covid and near zero downside... We cd just pay Amazon to distribute it free to the entire population, no admin required...

Nobody replied on this but i think since then there have been more studies out showing benefits to immune system -- it seems a low cost high reward action?

Guys back in May i asked about vitamin D -- im being sent lots of stuff from non-dummies, hedge funds etc -- saying where is your plan to distribute vitD etc... What IS our plan on this? I fear that again we are being slow and overly-bureaucratic and behind other countries...

Back of fag packet suggests £2-3 per person p/a, so ~200M cost -- peanuts in current situation -- apart from covid wd have some other mild positive effects
