How are you enjoying your return?

It is amazing that the demand hasn't been there - people behave in such weird ways! The testing ramp up has been impressive. My return has been v frustrating to be honest - the Cabinet Office is a totally dysfunctional mess at present, so not a great place to be!

I'm sorry about that. The non-shielded vulnerable is such a vital project. I withs it reported to HMIG then we'd soon straighten things out!
