Subject: RE: school reopening guidance - impact assessment?

Thanks so much for the quick response [redacted] and apologies for the confusion. I had seen that email but must admit that I hadn't properly clocked that it related to the school reopening plans that were announced yesterday.

Obviously we're a bit concerned that the draft impact assessment is coming out after the decision has already been taken so the assessment of impact on different groups may not have informed the actual decision itself. I'll of course look forward to seeing the document, to sharing any advice I can and to joining the discussion on 15th, but thought I should probably flag that concern at this stage, as it's a point we've raised with the Education Minister and Deputy Minister for H&SS about impact assessments generally.

Thanks

Hi [redacted] NR

I checked with [redacted] who's leading on this and he's sent me the attached email you were copied into. The timing hasn't changed and he's still working towards sharing a draft IIA with you by the end of next week. We are also setting up a meeting on Teams for a week Monday (15th) and you should be hearing from [redacted] NR on that shortly.

I hope that helps clarify where we are before the meeting.

Thanks

Hi NR we're meeting the Education Minister at 12.30 today. Ahead of that is it possible to confirm whether or not there has been a CRIA or integrated impact assessment of the school reopening proposals please?

If there is a document, we'd really like to see it if possible please so we can offer advice on considerations that ultimately should feed in to the guidance for next week in our view too (as noted in our comments on the draft guidance on Tuesday PM). Appreciate that is unlikely to come through before the 12.30 meeting but just to reiterate our ongoing offer to support as a critical friend in this way of course.

Thanks
