Chris Whitty has done an evidence review and now recommend testing of all going into care homes, and segregation whilst awaiting result. This is obviously a good positive step & we must put into the doc

AN Allan Nixon 14 Apr 2020 8:20 AM +00:00

Quick MND handling update. CMO's office have been in contact and arranged a call with the CEO of the Doddie Weir Foundation. The new Scottish CMO spoke to Doddie Weir at the end of last week and explained the logic of not having MND on the list, and Doddie was apparently persuaded. DCMO also having a call with Motor Neurone Disease Association today to discuss Irrelevant & Sensitive what are our lines on this and I'll get Scot tory MPs to get stuck in?

Yours sincerely,

I wasn't in testing mtg. Just to check: officials are saying your steer is to remove the commitment to testing on admission to care homes from the community, but keep commitment to testing on admission to care homes from hospital

AN Allan Nixon 14 Apr 2020 5:48 PM +00:00

Update from Ros: we can say in the doc that it's our ambition to test everyone going into a care home from the community where care homes want ("in the comings weeks" is the suggested timeframe I've been told)

> Fine. Tell me if I'm wrong but I would rather leave it out and just commit to test & isolate ALL going into care from hospital. I do not think the community commitment adds anything and it muddies the waters. Have that for a Q&A response.
