Hi Rob,

Thanks.

I have sent it on to her, as I think HMT analysts are on the wrong side of this one.

Regards,
Ben

She is on the regular distro and will get it this pm but no objection to you giving her an advance copy.

Imran,

As promised, PSA a spotlight which summarises the key insights so far for the PM. It will be issued more widely later today.

You already have the two key SPI-M docs on which this is largely based, but reattaching for ease.

Toy model demos going in on Weds as you know.

Thanks all for your time on Friday. Apols not to have read your excellent notes in advance – I've now corrected that.

Be great to touch base again next week as you finalise the 'toy model', Will be helpful. As discussed, would be super if we can plug in the actual vaccine programme and some sensible assumptions around the impact of higher-risk cohorts receiving vaccines.

Really appreciate your time on this.

Dan

Imran,

As promised, PSA a short note for the meeting with Dan this afternoon.

I've attached the papers cited for reference only (those marked as drafts since cleared by SAGE).

I've not attached the JBC toy model - we're reviewing with the team at 1300 and I'm not yet sure if it will be ready to demo.

Look forward to discussing later.

Rob

PS NR Simon asked for an update too, so copying you in.
